

EARN CREDITS IN CHINA

NRE 3675 Environment and Agriculture of China
Summer 2013 Study Abroad, 3 credits

WITH SUPPORTS FROM

AND

Students pay only a fraction of the expenses (not much more than the international travel)

3-week Study Tour: deep into the heartland of China

Direct Observation: the geography, climate, agriculture, ecosystems, history and culture of China

Visiting Sichuan University: a very top university in China

Lectures by Chinese professors in English: Interacting and learning together with Chinese students

Field Trips: focusing on environment, ecology, and agriculture

3 credits towards General Education

No Background? Not Ready?

Learn about and prepare for the course by taking:

NRE 3674 Introduction to Environment and Agriculture of China

1 credit, Spring 2013

Interested students are encouraged to contact:

- Professor X. Harrison Yang, xiusheng.yang@uconn.edu, 860-486-0135

View program details at the UConn Study Abroad website:

- <http://www.studyabroad.uconn.edu> or <http://www.nre.uconn.edu> (to be updated)